(A-1131) UNORDAINED PASTORS WDE BES

The NAD Union Presidents, at their meeting March 4-6, 1975, requested that the standing Church Manual Committee give study to the subject of unordained pastors. Present practice allows for unordained pastors to be elected and ordained as elders of local churches. The practice is acceptable where the unordained pastor serves a single congregation, but becomes complicated when his district includes two or more churches. The action of the NAD Union Presidents reads:
"Agreed, To request the standing Church Manual Committee to study the subject of unordained pastors with a view to providing proper church authority for pastors in this category. The following suggestions may be considered:

1. A worker appointed by the conference as a pastor, even if he is not ordained, may be recognized as the leader of that congregation and the person responsible to the conference and the congregation for their overall program.

2. Grant unordained ministers, appointed by a conference to serve as pastor of a congregation, the privileges and responsibilities of a local elder without being so elected by their congregation."

Agreed, To receive the study request and refer it to the standing Church Manual Committee.

OUP SM 75 AEG

The standing Church Manual Committee has suggested that an editorial revision of the Church Manual, page 81, lines 16 and 18, to make even clearer the fact that ordinations of local church elders always be performed by an ordained minister, and not be delegated to a local church elder, although such will usually be invited to participate in the ordination service.

(A-1392) WORKERS ORDAINED TO THE WORLD FIELD PRADCO

Richard Hammill, President of Andrews University, has requested that study be given to including a statement in the General Conference Working Policy and the Ministers' Manual stating that in the Seventh-day Adventist Church, ministers are ordained to serve the world Church, suggesting a statement such as the following:
"Workers are ordained to the gospel ministry to serve the world Church. In accepting ordination they become subject to direction from the Church in regard to the place where they minister for the Church. Those who accept ordination, recognize they may be expected to serve the Church as pastors and preachers of the Word even if, when ordained, they are serving in specialized ministries of the Church."
Agreed, To recommend to PRADCO that an ad hoc committee be appointed to study the inclusion in the General Conference Working Policy and the Ministers' Manual of a statement setting forth the concept that ministers ordained in the Seventh-day Adventist Church are ordained to serve the world Church.

(A-1022) PRISON CHAPLAINS

On February 5, 1975, PRADCO (75-20) requested the National Service Organization, plus others, to study the question of whether Seventh-day Adventist ministers employed as full-time prison staff chaplains, might do so on a basis similar to military chaplains. The committee submitted the following report:

"WHEREAS, it is necessary for an ordained minister to be endorsed by his denomination if he is to serve as a chaplain in a Veterans' Administration Hospital or correctional institution and,
"WHEREAS, it is customary for other churches to issue this endorsement through the same body that endorses their military chaplains,
"WE RECOMMEND,

1. That while we do not actively promote this type of service for our ordained ministers, we nevertheless recognize that it affords a unique opportunity for missionary endeavor.
"2. That qualified men with a mature Christian experience, who carry a special burden for this type of ministry, be endorsed for such service. Endorsement shall be by the General Conference Committee upon recommendation of the National Service Organization.
"3. That after such an endorsement is granted the National Service Organization be the designated body within the church to transmit this endorsement to the appropriate agency.
"4. That those ordained ministers so endorsed receive their credentials from the General Conference while employed as chaplains as long as they remain in good and regular standing.
"5. That no denominational service credit shall be granted in respect of service as a Veterans' Administration Hospital or correctional institution chaplain."

Agreed, To receive the report and list it for PRADCO. (wde)

"We recommend, To the North American Division union presidents and to the General Conference officers the following plan for their consideration:
1. That all aspirants to the teaching of Bible in secondary schools be encouraged to obtain field preparation for their work by participating in the regular denominational internship plan.
2. That the General Conference be requested to add ten more internships to the present total, to be utilized in field who use young ministers as Bible teachers in the secondary school system.
3. That conferences that utilize ministers as academy Bible teachers within two years after their ordination to the ministry, shall receive one of these special internships in addition to their regular denominational ministerial internships."

(A-2113) ORDINATION OF PHYSICIANS--
POLICY ADJUSTMENT HOOUP AC 77

An ad hoc committee submitted the following report regarding the Ordination of Physicians:

ORDINATION OF PHYSICIANS

This committee was appointed by the Credentials and Licenses Committee to give study to the following questions:
1. What is the procedure to follow and the philosophy that we adhere to in the ordination of physicians?
2. What is the Spirit of Prophecy counsel regarding the ordination of physicians?

Spirit of Prophecy Counsel

a. Every physician can and ought to be a Christian, and if so he bears with him a cure of souls as well as bodies. He is doing the work of an apostle as well as of a physician.--Letter 36, 1893.
b. When one goes out as a physician, gospel teacher, and canvasser, he should be fully empowered to do the work of a minister. When under his labors souls accept the truth and give evidence of true conversion, he is to baptize them in the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost. --Ms 55, 1901.
c. The work of the true medical missionary is largely a spiritual work. It includes prayer and the laying on of hands; he therefore should be as sacredly set apart for his work as the minister of the gospel. Those who are selected to act the part of missionary physicians, are to be set apart as such. This will strengthen them against the temptation to withdraw from the sanitarium work to engage in private practice. --Evangelism 546.

Agreed, To recommend that the following be inserted in the GC Working Policy p 186, par 1, and NAD Working Policy p 246, par 1, after the words "institutional leaders" --and denominationally employed physicians/ dentists. . .-

Agreed, To receive the report and to list it for consideration by the Annual Council 77 meeting of Home and Overseas Officers and Union Presidents. (ceb)

(A-2114) QUALIFICATIONS FOR ORDINATION
--POLICY AMENDMENT HOOUP AC 77
Agreed, To recommend to the Home and Overseas Officers and Union Presidents at the time of Annual Council 1977, amendment of the policy, "Qualifications for Ordination," (GCWP 182-187; NADWP 242-247) to read as follows: (jwb)

This counsel lays a definite obligation on the leaders in charge of an ordination service. They should plan for the examination of candidates in such a way as to make this important procedure not simply perfunctory but a true evaluation of the candidate's fitness. Sufficient time for careful evaluation should be made available, particularly in cases where a number of candidates are to be examined. Wherever possible the candidate should plan to have his wife present for the examination, realizing that ordination affects not only the individual but the entire family.

Undue haste has sometimes been apparent in recommending candidates for ordination. On the other hand, there has also been undue delay, extending as long as twenty years and more. Both these attitudes are wrong. Although no worker should be hurried into ordination, it is just as important that when a man is ready to be thus set apart, the service should not be unduly delayed. Embarrassment has been brought to workers at times because of being unable to perform certain important ministerial responsibilities. However, the fact that a ministerial trainee licensed minister has spent four, five, or even eight years in the field is of itself no guarantee that he is ready for ordination. One with less ability for evangelistic preaching or less aptitude for other lines of ministerial and pastoral work than some others will naturally take longer to develop. Indeed, some may never qualify for ordination. Those who do not reveal particular ministerial talent and aptitude for definite public leadership should be encouraged to develop as personal soul winners, recognizing that their call is to some other work less distinctly ministerial.

Conference/mission presidents and executive committees should recognize their responsibility to foster the growth of young ministers and see to it that they are given opportunities for developing to their full ministerial capacity. Any plan that diverts the minister-to-be from his actual training and growth is to be discouraged. Injustices have been perpetrated when ministerial trainees licensed ministers possessing manual skills have been asked to spend long periods serving in other capacities to the neglect of their ministerial development. Such a plan may save the conference money, but it delays the development of the minister.

When a conference gives a young man a ministerial license it should be recognized as a pledge on the part of the conference leadership to foster that worker's growth. And when a man accepts a ministerial license he should regard it as a pledge on his part to render the utmost service of which he is capable. Such a license, however, is not a commitment on the part of a conference that ultimate ordination is assured. It merely provides the opportunity for the licentiate to prove his calling. Although all cannot have the same conditions under which to develop into mature ministers, a man who is called of God will reveal his calling by his whole manner of life and the burden he carries for those who are still in the prison house of sin. In some circumstances it is difficult to provide conditions under which public evangelism as such can be carried out, but he who is called of the Lord will be able to give proof of his calling and of his aptness for the ministry as a lifework.

In some areas of the world field educational facilities are somewhat limited. If that is the case, it will naturally take longer for a minister to develop his readiness for ordination. Therefore, in consideration of all the varied conditions, it is impossible to specify any definite
The length of time for the training period, professional development, and spiritual growth of the licentiate. The fact that a licensed minister is assigned to overseas service should not of itself delay his ordination beyond the time it would have ordinarily taken place. His service record should be passed along to the new field and his development receive proper evaluation. In suitable cases a licensed minister who is approaching ordination at the time of his foreign call may be ordained prior to departure.

(A-2115) LICENSED MINISTER--ROLE
AND STATUS--NEW POLICY
HOO AC 77

Agreed, To recommend to the Home and Overseas Officers meeting at the time of Annual Council 1977 the new policy addition entitled, "Licensed Minister-role and status," (76 AC 52-54) to be inserted in the GC Working Policy following the section, "Safeguarding Credentials -- the Integrity of the Ministry," (GCWP 188-190) as follows: (jwb)

1. In certain circumstances the responsibility and authority of the licensed minister may be extended to include the performance of specific functions of the ordained minister in the churches to which he is assigned. This responsibility belongs to the division committee which shall clearly outline for its territory the ministerial functions which may be delegated to licensed ministers, taking into account:
   a. The length and extent of its ministerial training program.
   b. The needs of its fields allowing for the distribution of their membership, the number of churches and the ministerial help available.
   c. Any special circumstances that demand special consideration.

2. In delegating ministerial functions to licensed ministers the following prerequisites shall be satisfied in all divisions:
   a. The licentiate shall have completed the prescribed ministerial training requisites of the Seventh-day Adventist Church as defined by the division committee for its territory. Exceptions must be approved by local and union committees within guidelines established by the division committee.
   b. He is the recipient of a ministerial license.
   c. He has been appointed by the conference/mission executive committee to a ministerial or pastoral responsibility.
   d. He has been elected as a church elder in the churches, or named in the companies to which he is assigned.
   e. He has been ordained as a local church elder.

The conference/mission executive committee shall authorize, in harmony with the division policy, what functions of the ordained minister the licensed minister may perform.

3. A licensed minister's leadership progress, professional development, and spiritual growth will be reviewed annually by the conference/mission administration and executive committee.
4. A licensed minister's authorization to serve as a minister of the gospel and to perform functions of an ordained minister may be withdrawn by the conference/mission executive committee.

5. A licensed minister is ordinarily ordained to the gospel ministry after he has satisfactorily fulfilled a period of pastoral/evangelistic service during which time he has given evidence of his call to the ministry. The spiritual rite of ordination constitutes the official recognition by the Seventh-day Adventist Church of his divine call to the ministry as a life commitment, and is his endorsement to serve as a minister of the gospel in any part of the world.

(A-2116) LICENSED MINISTER --ROLE AND STATUS--NEW POLICY OUP AC 77

Agreed, To recommend to the meeting of Officers and Union Presidents at the time of Annual Council 1977, the addition of the new policy (with amended Paragraph 1.a.) entitled, "Licensed Minister-- Role and Status" (76 AC 52, 53) to be inserted following the section "Safeguarding Credentials --the Integrity of the Ministry" (NADWP 248, 249) as follows: (jwb)

1. A person is recognized as a minister of the gospel in the North American Division of the Seventh-day Adventist Church when all the following prerequisites have been satisfied:
   a. Completion of the prescribed ministerial training requisites of the Seventh-day Adventist Church (Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in Bible or religion plus nine quarters in the SDA Theological Seminary), or two years of employment in ministerial or pastoral work or a total of two years of seminary training and employment in ministerial or pastoral work. Until this prerequisite has been met, the person will receive a missionary license.
   b. Recipient of a ministerial license.
   c. Appointment by the Conference/Mission Executive Committee to a ministerial or pastoral responsibility.
   d. Election as a church elder in the churches, or named in the companies to which he is assigned.
   e. Ordination as a local church elder.

2. A licensed minister is authorized by the Conference/Mission Executive Committee to perform all the functions of the ordained minister in the churches or companies to which he is assigned.

3. A licensed minister's leadership progress, professional development and spiritual growth will be reviewed annually by the Conference/Mission administration and Executive Committee.

4. A licensed minister's authorization to serve as a minister of the Gospel and to perform all the functions of an ordained minister may be withdrawn by the Conference/Mission Executive Committee.

5. A licensed minister is ordinarily ordained after a period of about four years of field experience. This spiritual rite of ordination constitutes the official confirmation of the Seventh-day Adventist Church of his divine call to the ministry as a life commitment, and is his endorsement to serve as a minister of the Gospel in any part of the world.

(X-1845) CHURCH MANUAL AMENDMENT--
"LICENSED MINISTERS"  AC 77 PLANS

The standing Church Manual Committee recommends amendment of the Church Manual title, "Licensed Ministers" as follows:
RECOMMENDED, To amend "Licensed Ministers" (CM 185, 186) as follows:

LICENSED MINISTERS

To give young men an opportunity to demonstrate their call to the ministry, especially in the area of soul-winning, prospective candidates are granted ministerial licenses by the conference/mission. The granting of such licenses confers the opportunity and the right to develop the ministerial gift and to assist in the ordinances and services of the church such as the Lord's Supper, baptism, and the marriage ceremony. Where there is no local elder he may, when authorized by the conference or division committee, preside at business meetings of the church but not at business meetings when members are disciplined request should be made to the conference president for an ordained minister to preside at such a meeting. He The licensed minister is authorized to preach, to engage in evangelism, assist in a spiritual way in any church activities and to lead out in missionary work, and especially to engage in evangelism to assist in any church activities.

He may be elected as a local elder of a particular church and ordained as such, provided arrangements have been made with the conference. In such a case he is vested with the authority of a local elder but no more. His ordination as local elder qualifies him to serve only in such churches as have elected him as their local elder, and then only on the advice of the conference committee or president.

Conference committees do not have the right to authorize a licensed minister to go from church to church baptizing or performing other church rites pertaining to the functions of an ordained minister. A conference committee action cannot be substituted for church election or ministerial ordination. Assignment of such worker to district leadership must not be made the occasion for unwarranted authorization in such matters.

There are circumstances, in many fields, however, where it is necessary for the conference/mission to appoint a licensed minister to carry responsibility as a pastor or assistant pastor of a church or group of churches. In order to open the way for him to perform certain ministerial functions, the church or group of churches he is to serve may elect him as a local elder. However, since he is employed by the conference/mission and appointed by it he represents it, and it may consider, in varying degrees as circumstances require that his authority and responsibilities should be extended in order to enable him to discharge his duties satisfactorily. The right to permit this extension of authority and responsibility rests, in the first instance, with the Division executive committee. Its action is necessary before any conference/mission may extend the authority and responsibility of the licensed minister. Such action shall define specifically and clearly what additional ministerial functions a licensed minister may perform, but always on the understanding that his functions as a church elder and his extended functions be always and only within the church or group of churches which he serves.

In its actions the conference/mission committee shall not go beyond that which the division committee authorizes. It shall not authorize a licensed minister to go from church to church outside of the church or group of churches of which he is a local elder, performing church rites which pertain to the functions of an ordained minister. A conference/mission committee action cannot be substituted for church election or ministerial ordination.

AGREED, To receive the proposed amendment and to list it for consideration by the Annual Council 1977 Plans Committee.

117-86Gz ORDINATION OF DEACONESES - COUNSEL

The Church Manual Committee for the quinquennium 1980-85 recommended that the Church Manual section on The Deaconess (CM 94) be revised to incorporate the 1984 Annual Council recommendation that deaconesses be ordained (see GCC 84-399).

The 1985 General Conference Session rejected the recommendation. How shall the present Church Manual Committee proceed?

The pertinent paragraph in the Church Manual therefore continues to read as follows:

Deaconesses were included in the official staff of the early Christian churches (Romans 16:1, 2). Phoebe was a servant --servant in this instance meaning "deaconess"--of the church at Cenchrea. Other references indicate that women served in the early church as deaconesses. There is no record, however, that these women were ordained; hence the practice of ordaining deaconesses is not followed by the Seventh-day Adventist Church. (CM 94)

161-93G THE CHURCH ELDER, ORDINATION OF LOCAL ELDER - CHURCH MANUAL AMENDMENT

RECOMMENDED, To amend the Church Manual page 57, The Church Elder, Ordination of Local Elder, to read as follows:

Ordination of Local Elder—Election to the office of elder does not in itself qualify one as an elder. Ordination is required before an elder has authority to function in that office. During the interim between election and ordination, the elected elder may function as church leader but not administer the ordinances of the church.

The ordination service is only performed by an ordained minister with credentials from the local conference. It may be a courtesy to invite a visiting ordained minister to assist in the ordination.
but only ordination. However, only on the specific request of the local conference officers would the a visiting ordained minister or a retired ordained minister conduct the ordination. The sacred rite of ordination should be simply performed in the presence of the church, and may include a brief outline of the office of elder, the qualities required, and the principal duties the elder will be authorized to perform for the church. After the exhortation, the minister, assisted by other ordained ministers and/or local ordained elders who are participating in the service, will ordain the elder by prayer and the laying on of hands. Having once been ordained as a church elder, ordination is not required again upon reelection to office as an elder, or upon election as elder of another church, provided that good and regular standing in the church has been maintained. One who has been ordained as elder is thereby qualified to serve subsequently in the deaconate office.

GUIDELINES FOR ORDINATION

VOTED, To approve the following Guidelines for Ordination at the General Conference headquarters:

Review of Actions and Policies
Ministerial Ordination—Reform of Practice - (GCC 85-1121): "VOTED, To institute a reform in the Church's ordination practices for the purpose of limiting ministerial ordination to those who perform direct pastoral, evangelistic, ecclesiastical or other clearly ministerial-type duties."

Ordained to World Church

"Workers who are ordained to the gospel ministry are set apart to serve the world church, primarily as pastors and preachers of the Word, and are subject to the direction of the church in regard to the type of ministry and their place of service. It should therefore be understood by those accepting ordination and who are engaged in specialized ministries such as administration, teaching, and department leadership, that they may be reassigned by the church to pastoral, preaching, and evangelistic duties."—General Conference Working Policy L 40.

The responsibility should be placed on the ordination candidate to express himself on this point, preferably in writing. The responsibility should be placed on the Ordination Review Committee to solicit such an understanding from the ordination candidate. This is seen as a self-monitoring procedure that clarifies the intent that ordination be granted to those whose service is ministry-focused.

Qualifications for Ordination
The General Conference Working Policy L 50, Examination of Candidates for Ordination, states that "Before the church sets a man apart by ordination he should have given satisfactory evidence of:

"a. A call to the ministry as a lifework,
“b. His belief in and knowledge of the Scriptures,
“c. His acquaintance with and full acceptance of the vital truths we believe we are called to proclaim to the world,
“d. Experience in various kinds of ministerial responsibility,
“e. Entire consecration of body, soul, and spirit,
“f. Spiritual stability,
“g. Social maturity,
“h. Aptness as a teacher of truth,
“i. Ability to lead souls from sin into holiness,
“j. Fruitage in souls won to Christ,
“k. A cooperative attitude and confidence in the organization and functioning of the church,
“l. A life of consistent exemplary Christian conduct,
“m. An exemplary family.”

Bible and Spirit of Prophecy Qualifications

In the North American Division Working Policy L 45 biblical references and Spirit of Prophecy quotations are given about the qualifications for the ministry. Paul considered himself as "a servant of Jesus Christ" and considered this a "high calling". Ellen G White says that "A true minister does the work of the Master" (Acts of the Apostles, pp. 328, 329), and that "The conversion of sinners and their sanctification through the truth is the strongest proof a minister can have that God has called him to the ministry" (Acts of the Apostles, p. 328).

"Ordination of men who have not given clear evidence of their calls as soul-saving ministers must be avoided. It will always be true that some men, having been trained for lines of work other than the ministry, in time will give proof of their divine call to this sacred work, and the Church, recognizing this proof, will feel called to set them apart by ordination. But such cases are exceptions. Because a man holds a responsible position in the organized work, he is not by this fact alone eligible for ordination. "—North American Division Working Policy, L 45 40 "Ordination must never become simply a reward for faithful service or be considered an opportunity to add title and prestige to an employee."—North American Division Working Policy L 45 50. In the North American Division Working Policy, L 45 55 it is stated that "The ministry is not merely a profession; it is a calling." It is also referred to as a "Lifework".

Non Ministerial Employees

The North American Division Working Policy, L 45 45, sets out the counsel regarding Non Ministerial Employees and cites college presidents and academy principals, who in a sense are pastors to the students of those schools being responsible for their academic training as well as their spiritual welfare. They also must feel the call for the ministry as a lifework. "...editors, institutional leaders, conference secretary-treasurers, departmental directors/secretaries and denominationally employed physicians and dentists—may also come to the place in their service where ordination is appropriate; however, the divine call to the ministry must be clear before the Church separates them to the gospel ministry."

Commissioned Minister Credential

"To associates in pastoral care; Bible instructors; General Conference, division, union, and local conference treasurers and departmental directors including associate and assistant directors; institutional chaplains; presidents and vice presidents of major institutions; auditors (General Conference director, associates, area and district directors); and field directors of the Christian Record Services. These individuals should have significant experience in denominational service, usually not fewer than five years, and demonstrate proficiency in the responsibilities assigned to them. Their remuneration should be at approximately the maximum for their category in the denominational wage scale."—North American Division Working Policy, D 05 10-3-a.

Definition of Ministry
All Christians are called to a ministry (Eph 4:12). Many are called to professional ministries such as the ministry of teaching, or the ministry of healing. The uniqueness of what is often termed the "gospel ministry" is that it calls to leadership in the most directly and completely spiritual areas of the Church.

Three Purposes of the Gospel Ministry
1. Intimacy with Christ—"And He ordained twelve, that they should be with him" (Mark 3:14).
2. Preaching "that He might send them forth to preach" (Ibid).
3. Establishing and nurturing local congregations. (Confirmed by Acts and the many pastoral epistles.) Ordination to the gospel ministry should normally be reserved for those proven successful in all three.

Summary of Present Actions
1. The Church lists specific qualifications for the ordination of ministers.
2. Working for the Master is a high calling.
3. The individual must be a true soul-winner.
4. People in other lines of work must give evidence of the divine call.
5. It is not a reward for title or position.
6. Nonpastors may occasionally be ordained if the divine call is clear and evident.
7. Teachers and other nonministerial personnel may receive the Commission of Ministerial Teaching credentials.

Proposed Guidelines
1. The 1985 General Conference Session action to reform ordination practices should be upheld.
2. Pastors, who have given proof of their divine call and are actively engaged in soul-winning, should ordinarily be the recipients of ordination.
3. All ordination candidates will have their cases considered by an Ordination Review Committee.
4. Nonpastoral workers should be encouraged to receive the Commissioned Minister Credential, and a special commissioning service should be conducted for these candidates.
5. Teachers and other professional educators who have a life-long commitment to and significant experience in the Seventh-day Adventist system of education, with usually not fewer than six years of service, and with demonstrated proficiency in assigned responsibilities, should receive the Commissioned Ministry of Teaching Credential.
6. When a nonministerial worker is recommended for ordination, he should be engaged in active ministry in a local church.

125-99G THE DEACON - CHURCH MANUAL AMENDMENT…

Deacons Must Be Ordained - No change…

It is suggested that at the ordinance of the Lord's Supper the deacons should place the communion table in position after it has been and it should be arranged by the deaconesses. They should then be seated on the front row of seats, facing the communion table. After the minister or elder has asked the blessing on the bread and has broken it, he will pass the plates to the deacons. The deacons in turn will pass the emblem to the congregation. After serving the people, the deacons return the plates to the elder or the minister, who then serves the deacons. If two ordained persons are officiating, they serve each other; otherwise a deacon serves the minister or elder who then returns the plate to the table. All should then be seated. The same procedure is to be followed in serving the wine. (See pp. 69-74.)…

The elder, particularly if he is a licensed minister, collaborates with the regular pastor in planning the order of the service. If the church has no regular pastor, the elder is in charge of the service and should either conduct it or arrange for someone to do so. If an ordained minister is present, the elder naturally will defer to him and invite him to take the service. From time to time a meeting for testimony and praise may be conducted, or the time given to certain members to relate their experiences in outreach (missionary) work. …
Who May Conduct Communion Service—The communion service is to be conducted by an ordained minister or a church elder. Deacons, although ordained, cannot conduct the service, but they can assist by passing the bread and wine to the members.

Communion for the Sick—If any members are ill or cannot for any other reason leave the home to attend the communion service in the house of worship, a special service in the home may be held for them. This service can be conducted only by an ordained minister or a church elder, who may be accompanied and assisted by deacons or deaconesses who assist in the regular service.

AMENDMENT

RECOMMENDED, To amend GC O 25, Social Security/National Insurance, effective January 1, 2000, to read as follows:…

0 25 20 Social Security Tax Equalization—Interdivision ordained/licensed ministers from a homeland base division country where they are required to pay social security tax on a higher self-employed rate than the nonminister, shall have the social security taxes equalized. Since the interdivision nonministerial employee's social security tax is shared between the interdivision employee and the employing organization, the ordained/licensed minister shall be granted a subsidy to offset the difference between the percentage rate paid by the interdivision nonministerial employee and the percentage rate paid by the interdivision ordained/licensed minister on a self-employed basis. This policy does not apply to those serving in a territory of the home country and still benefiting from the income tax benefits of a parsonage/manse allowance (i.e. an interdivision employee from the United States serving in Guam or Puerto Rico).

188-99Gb THE SABBATH WORSHIP SERVICE - CHURCH MANUAL AMENDMENT

RECOMMENDED, To amend the Church Manual, Chapter 7, The Services and Meetings of the Church, pages 65-68, The Sabbath Worship Service, to read as follows:…

The elder, particularly if he is a licensed minister, collaborates with the regular pastor in planning the order of the service. If the church has no regular pastor, the elder is in charge of the service and should either conduct it or arrange for someone to do so. If an ordained minister is present, the elder naturally will defer to him and invite him to take the service. From time to time a meeting for testimony and praise may be conducted, or the time given to certain members to relate their experiences in outreach (missionary) work.
